General Grant Puls Another Night of Quiet and Rest in the Past, And This Afternoon Steps Into His Carriage For a Drive in Central Park.

He Bows and Smiles Acknowledgement to a Hundred Lifted Hats at His Home.

CONSTANT IMPROVEMENT.

General Grant Preparing for a Drive in Central Park This Afternoon.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.
New York, April 20.—No incident interrupted the quiet of the Grant household last night. The light was turned very low in the sick room, the nurse and the general's son, Fred, were with him, but their patient rested and slept through the night until 6:15 this morning. The family slept all night as did Dr. Douglas who remained in the house. The doctor left about 9 a. m. He will return at 2 o'clock, when it is believed the general will go out to drive. Mark Twain and Dr. Newman were the only callers this morning.

HE TAKES A DRIVE.

New York, April 20.—At 1:50 o'clock this afternoon, General Grant's family carriage was driven to the door. Shortly afterward the general appeared and unaided walked down the steps with a firm step. As he crossed the flagging he bowed and smiled at a hundred hats were lifted in salute by those who had assembled. As the general was stepping into the carriage he glanced up to the colored coachman and bade him good morning. Harrison, as he mounted to his place with the driver, remarked, "Don't look much like dead, general, does it?" and his face was broad with glee.

A Genuine Letter

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.
St. Louis, April 19.—The Globe-Democrat referring editorially to the controversy in the east over the genuineness of the letter of General Grant published for the first time a week ago to-day, remarks as follows:
"We desire to say that there is not the slightest room for a doubt or a dismission on the subject. The letter was copied in the Globe-Democrat office from the original, which was known to the editor of the Globe-Democrat to be in General Grant's hand writing. It had been previously submitted to General Sherman and he had recognized Grant's hand writing before seeing the signature. It was found not long since in a bundle of private papers belonging to the late Fred K. Dent, General Grant's father-in-law, to whom it was addressed."

TALK OF TROUBLES

The Rules of the State Relate Their Experience at Chicago and Tell of their latest Experience and Other Exports.

Respected Readers and All Whom This May Concern.

Undoubtedly you are all anxiously waiting to know the why and wherefore of our sudden disappearance from home and friends. It is as follows:

Two weeks ago we departed for a visit of a few days with friends at New Haven, we began to think it would be quite pleasant to travel, and after a few days made up our minds to go. We left home for New Haven April 3, and remained there until Monday at 1:30 p. m. We departed on the Nickel Plate, accompanied by Miss May Schenker. When we arrived at Fort Wayne, Miss Schenker asked me if we were going to remain on the car. I replied we were waiting for a friend, and would remain while the passengers went to dinner, but we accidentally stayed for supper. I did not get a ticket at Fort Wayne, for we supposed that after our folks found out we were nowhere to be found they would inquire of the ticket agent at Fort Wayne where we had bought our ticket for, but we paid our fare out of the $40 which we took from home. We did not take the money with the intention of stealing it, as it is the first time I ever remember of taking anything intentionally, but intended to replace it as soon as possible. I would like to correct a few mistakes which I took particular notice to in several of the daily papers with regard to our conversation with Mr. and Mrs. Dr. Myers, who boarded the same car Monday, but whether Mrs. Myers told the right story first and people told it one to another until it became mixed up into such a manner, we do not know. The Sunday's Journal stated that Mrs. Myers should have said that we stated we were leaving home and going to Chicago because we were dissatisfied with our home and that our father had refused to give us the education we desired at the Academy of "Our Lady of the Sacred Heart." I am confident that we never made any such remark, as we have never had any reason to be dissatisfied, and have always had everything we desired at home. And in regard to education have always went to No. 1 schools until we were removed from New Haven to Mr. Coomb's farm, and we then spoke about going to school to school at the Academy, but we kept putting us off by saying he would see later, and as they thought our help was needed at home this summer, promised to send us in the fall, and, furthermore, I would deem it very improper to make any such remark to persons with whom we were engaged in conversation with, for we would naturally suppose if people heard us talk in such a manner they would be some what inclined to think we were runaways, but remember of telling her we were going to the convent of the "Good Shepherd" and that was our intention to spend a day or two there as we frequently heard our teacher speak of this convent and thought we would like to see it, but learned it was not so easy to find it and get there as thought it was. Mrs. Myers then asked what hotel we intended to stop over night at and after speaking of several concluded to accompany them to the Palmer house. We did not register in our right names, but assumed the name Clinton, of Detroit, Mich. Mr. and Mrs. Myers left us at the dining room door and started for the opera. They had not gone over ten minutes when a porter was sent to tell us that a lady and gentleman had just called for us and directed us to the parlor, but on entering found they were gone but we surmised it was Mr. and Mrs. Myers. By this time we began to think we had seen all of Chicago we cared to see and concluded to go home the next morning, and ere we retired to our room left our call at the office for 6 a. m. to take the 7:30 train on the Nickel Plate for Ft. Wayne. The next morning we felt somewhat better and thought we would go a little further west. We did not inquire at the Palmer house for the Northwestern depot as we fancied Mr. and Mrs. Myers would inquire where we had gone to, but within half an hour we had left the Palmer house we were at the depot, and at 11:40 a. m. started for Elgin, Illinois. By this time we suspected people would think it rather strange in us traveling and wonder how we could do so. After speaking to several persons on the cars, one of the ladies asked us to accompany her to Genoa, and we concluded to do so. We arrived there at 3:15 p. m., and made arrangements to give an entertainment, and the same day had bills struck to that effect, but we happened to strike election day and people were so highly interested in it that they forgot everything else, but we came out ahead about $2 after paying expenses of $12.40. Our second entertainment was quite a success, and was given about ten miles from Chicago, at a town somewhat larger than New Haven. They expected us at several other towns this week, and had partly promised to assist the "Happy Feet" with an entertainment at Elgin the 23d. By Saturday night we began to get rather lonesome and began to think how we would spend Sunday. One thought led to another until we finally thought we would go to Chicago, and at 7:30 the next morning took the Milwaukee & St. Paul road and arrived at Chicago at 11:40; we started down Madison street to State street, and then went over in North Chicago to the Cathedral, and arrived there in time for afternoon service. After service we started back to the depot, and made up our minds to go home, and at 9 o'clock Sunday night boarded the train for Fort Wayne. The thought never once entered our mind that anybody was searching for us or we would, beyond all doubt, have not returned to Chicago. We arrived at Fort Wayne at 3 o'clock Monday morning, and were surprised on hearing such a sensation had been created about our trip and that Mr. Miller was in Chicago looking for us. We were escorted down to Mrs. Samuel Miller's by Captain Dehl and at 10 o'clock P. M. drove up to the house and was overjoyed to find us there, as he intended if no favorable word had been received since his departure from the city, to take the train from Chicago and then to Detroit, as he had heard the day previous that I had told a certain person at New Haven that I intended going to Detroit. We had no idea that we had caused so much grief and sorrow at home, but on entering found our mother almost heart-broken, and our brother and sisters likewise. I have written this for the readers special benefit so that no one might rest under any misunderstanding with regard to our trip, and furthermore, I would like to advise all girls who read this never to leave home without their parents consent, as it takes but a short time to become acquainted with the world and they will soon find out "There is no place like home."

Very respectfully,
EMMA R. LEO.
I wish to return my sincere thanks to all who have taken part in the search of our two daughters, Emma and Anna, and are very thankful to say that they arrived home safe after their "dangerous" trip to the west.
JOHN R. LEO.

The British Now Thoroughly Aroused and Determined to Resist Further Encroachments.

The War Feeling Strong Outside of London—Lumsden Contradicts General Komaroff.

NOW FOR WAR.

Russia Stretches British Forbearance to the Fatal Neck.

By Cable to THE SENTINEL.
VARNA, April 20.—Notwithstanding the peaceful tendencies reported from St. Petersburg and London, the situation as viewed from Constantinople still points to war. Russia, it is asserted by the officials, means to touch the utmost limit of British forbearance before she consents to conclude any arrangements for avoiding war. A very shrewd Russian merchant, who has extensive dealings in Southern Russia, remarked: "Do you think we have moved 150,000 men to the shores of the Caspian to obtain merely a strip of desert. Don't put faith in newspaper reports. We mean war unless the English timidly grants all we have wanted. As for Komaroff, the government will never recall him."

LONDON, April 20.—The situation in the Russian Afghan question again becomes very serious, owing to Russia increasing her demands to such an extent that it will be impossible for England to accept. It is now feared that Russia has overstepped the bounds of British forbearance, as it is stated on high authority that

ENGLAND WILL NEVER SUBMIT to these latter demands of the Russian premier. A large number of important dispatches passed between the English and Russian foreign offices Saturday and Sunday. All members of the cabinet remained in London Sunday, awaiting a reply from Russia to letters from Earl Granville. Despatches from Constantinople state that the Russian fleet there have been ordered to PREPARE FOR WAR INSTANTLY and that thirty-two Russian men-of-war have hoisted their flags and put to sea. THE EXCITEMENT BEGINS.

LONDON, April 20, 3 p. m.—There is now considerable excitement on exchanges, consols have fallen in last half hour and are now 96.

12:30 p. m.—Consols opened at 96, and soon advanced to 97. Russian securities opened at 88.

2 p. m.—Consols, 96 1/2-11-16.

3:30 p. m.—Consols, 96 3/4-16.

4 p. m.—Consols, 96 1/2.

THE CABINET MEETING.

LONDON, April 20.—The cabinet met to-day to consider the contents of a number of important despatches just received from Lord Dufferin.

THE GOVERNMENT SILENT.

LONDON, April 20.—Earl Granville in the house of lords said the government had received a dispatch from Sir Peter Lumsden, but the government was not prepared to make it public further than to state that it contained a contradiction concerning the Peshawar incident as given by General Komaroff. Further telegrams were received, but the government would not be prepared to make any further statement.

FEAR AT PARIS.

LONDON, April 20.—5 p. m.—Paris advices state that the three per cent. rent, which opened a 78 francs and 65 centimes, have declined to 76 francs, 27 centimes. The fall is due to rumors on the bourse that a rupture has occurred between England and Russia for a peaceful settlement of the Afghan question.

A PACIFIC PAPER.

LONDON, April 20.—The Pall Mall

Gazette says that despite all rumors of difference between England and Russia they are in a fair way towards settlement.

CHARTERING VESSELS.
LONDON, April 20.—The government has chartered the Pacific Steam navigation company's steamship "Louisiana."

A Jewish Rabbi Commits Suicide at Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., April 19.—Rev. Dr. David Stern, who yesterday took poison, died this morning at 9 o'clock, without having gained consciousness. The inquest was held this afternoon. A number of papers and letters were found among the effects of the deceased and offered as evidence showing that he intended taking his life. In one letter were found the names of six prominent Jewish residents of this city, whom he wanted to act as pallbearers. In another he bequeathed his valuable library to Rev. Dr. Fellsenthal, of Chicago, and denied the report circulated that he was an Atheist.

Chicago Telegraph Operators in Session.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

CHICAGO, April 19.—Two hundred telegraph operators in the employ of the Western Union company in this city held a meeting this afternoon and unanimously adopted the following resolution:

"Resolved, That the officers of the Western Union company are respectfully requested to restore extras on the same basis as they were before the reduction took place."

The operators present held that as the extra pay for extra work was cut off during the dull season, now when business is active, it should be restored.

Lodged in Jail.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

NEWBURGH, April 19.—The would be murderer and suicide, Jas. E. Meyers, was this morning lodged in the Newburgh jail. In walking from the station with an officer's aid, and stopping at the entrance of the jail he voluntarily confessed his guilt, attributing his incentive to the familiarity between Barclay and Mrs. Meyers. The men will probably recover while Mrs. Meyers has but one chance in a thousand for recovery.

LOCAL LINKS.

The circuit and superior courts are in session. There were about twenty-five fights at the south depot yesterday and last night. Not one arrest is recorded.

Henry C. Paul et al. began a foreclosure suit against Henry Burgess. This is to force the sale of the Columbus street property recently purchased by Paul and others.

The indications for the lower lake region, as reported by the weather bureau at Washington to THE SENTINEL, are as follows: Fair weather, followed by local rains on Tuesday, southeast to southwest winds, slight change in temperature, low barometer.

Master Mechanic Barnes discharged 100 men on the eastern division of the W. & A. Only five yard men were laid off here, the rest were dismissed at Detroit, Toledo, and Peru. Mr. Barnes was ordered to make the cut by the general officers of the road.

The many friends and acquaintances in this city of Miss Lily M. Hoffman, eldest daughter of Mr. J. R. Hoffman, of Charleston, W. Va., were greatly shocked to learn of the death of this young lady at Mobile, Ala., last Saturday morning. She had been spending some months at Mobile, with Mr. W. H. Hoffman and family, of West Berry street, and her demise was caused by the relapse of an attack of measles contracted some weeks since. Mrs. J. O. Smith, nee Miss Virginia Hoffman, the only other daughter of Mr. J. R. Hoffman, is also seriously ill with the same disease that caused the death of Miss Lily.

BURIAL NOTICE.

Dr. C. A. Leiter Compelled to Keep the Peace With Dr. J. D. Thayer.

THE SENTINEL readers recollect that Dr. C. A. Leiter encountered Dr. J. D. Thayer, of this city, at the home of a Mrs. Whitely, at Monroeville, some time ago, and struck the Fort Wayne doctor. For this doctor Leiter paid a fine. Then Dr. Thayer began proceedings to compel Dr. Leiter to thereafter keep the peace, Mayor Zollinger gave a decision in the matter this afternoon and held Dr. Leiter, under a bond of $100, from further molesting Dr. Thayer. Dr. Leiter promptly gave bond and departed smiling.

The shipments of flour, grain and provisions from Chicago to the east by the pool lines during the week ending Saturday, April 18, amounted to 70,519 tons, against 53,069 tons during the preceding week, a decrease of 12,570 tons. Shipments of flour increased 573 tons; those of grain decreased 13,534 tons, and those of provisions increased 295 tons. The Pittsburg road carried 18,052 tons and the Nickel Plate road 5,520. The Pittsburg road carried more freight than any other.

There is a report current in the higher railroad circles that J. N. McCullough, first vice president of the Pennsylvania company, which controls the lines in the Pennsylvania system west of Pittsburg, will at the close of the present year insist upon the Pennsylvania people electing some other man to the position he has held with so much credit to himself for so many years. Should his request be granted, it is said that James McCrea, manager of these lines, will likely be Mr. McCullough's successor, as the former stands high in the estimation of the powers that be who control this great property.

The court having decided that the Wallace's leased lines can not be abandoned by the receivers, and that upon such of them as earn operating expenses the rentals must be met, there remains no reason, apparently, why the defrauded bondholders of the L. P. & C., division should not receive a portion of their long-overdue interest. The Wallace is in arrears $275,000 in rentals on this division alone, notwithstanding that during a great portion of the past two years the L. P. & C., has more than made operating expenses. Instead of applying the surplus to paying the rent, it has been absorbed for the benefit of other divisions.

Charles Blue, a German, came here yesterday afternoon from the east. He rode in on a freight train and hopped about the south depot holding down $5, all the money he had in the world. Last night he was walking east on the track and three tramps held him up and robbed him. It was amusing to hear him tell how the fellows did the work. Officer Sheridan arrested the vags and Mayor Zollinger bound them to jail to await trial. The highway robbers are vicious looking individuals, and there is no reason why these sort of men should not be clubbed out of the city. For a week a gang of drunken tramps have swarmed west of the city.

Rev. Samuel King, a graduate of the Central Grammar school in 1880, who has just finished a four years course of study for the Presbyterian ministry at Chicago and at a theological college near St. Louis, is at Decatur to-day in attendance at a meeting of the presbytery of this district. While there he will decide whether to take pastoral charge of the church at Columbia City, which is at present without a minister. Mr. King is well known in this city, having been born and raised here. He is a self-made man and some years ago he drove the donkey cart owned by George J. E. Ayer and circulated to advertise Mr. Ayer's jewelry business and deliver small parcels to all parts of the city for ten cents. Mr. King has two years more to study and after preaching until next September will again resume his books at Chicago or New York.

REMOVED BY HIMSELF.
A. C. Neft, a Fort Wayne blackman, killed at Decatur on the Pittsburg Road.
This morning there was a sad fatality on the Pittsburg road at Bucyrus, Ohio. S. A. Mott, a brakeman, stepped between the cars to make a coupling. He did not readily accomplish the work and was pinched between the bumpers before he realized his position. There the poor fellow was pinned until the train was separated. Then he dropped in a heap and died in a short time. Mott lived in this city and boarded on Hanna street. He is a cousin of J. C. Pearson and was for some time employed as janitor of the R. B. Y. M. C. A. reading room in this city. His remains came here today for burial.

KEEPING A DONKEY.
The Insurance-Townley Millions Again Agitating the American House-Last Wayne People Interested.

During the past few days the somewhat famous Lawrence-Townley estate has agitated the public. Robert Townley, of Elizabeth, N. J., and formerly at the head of the Fort Wayne dry goods house of Townley, DeWald, Bond & Co., is one of the principal heirs, as is also his daughter, Mrs. E. P. Williams, of this city. The newspaper article referred to reads as follows:

The heirs to the Lawrence-Townley estate in England, valued at $200,000,000, report having found the missing link in their chain of evidence—the marriage certificate of Mrs. Sidney S. Brown, of Bagdad, New York. The document is to bring her $40,000,000.

Henry Grinnell, of Grand Rapids, is another of the heirs. He says: "I have been working over the matter for the past ten years, but never believed we would get anything until now, for there has been a missing link in the pedigree, which we could not supply. This much needed person has been found in Mrs. Sidney S. Brown, of Bagdad, N. Y., who has been acknowledged heir to $40,000,000 by the court of the queen's bench. This establishes my wife's claim as one of the 500 heirs to this property. The founder of this now extensive family was a man by the name of Robert Lawrence, who was born A. D. 1150, and emigrated to Lancaster, England. He was an officer attending Richard Coeur de Lion during his crusade to the Holy Land, and so distinguished himself by his heroism that he was knighted. Sir Robert Lawrence. About 1713 John Lawrence and Mary Townley married against the wishes of the then baronet and emigrated to America. From this couple the 500 heirs of this enormous estate of $200,000,000 are descended. If we get the money we won't hoard it up, no, not at all. We shall help charitable institutions and aid poor fellows of merit who are struggling to get along in the world. Even now I have but a faint hope of getting the money, for the bank of England, where the money is deposited, won't let such an enormous amount go without a big kick."

The Washington Monument.
The Washington monument is said to be one-sixty-fourth of an inch out of plumb. This does not seem much, nor is there any probability that it will cause the monument to topple over. Very little things, however, sometimes make a great disturbance in the human system. The blood corpuscles are only the thirty-one hundredths of an inch in diameter, and if they are not fully supplied with iron their owner will feel weak and languid and not worth two cents. Brown's Iron Bitters enriches the blood corpuscles with iron, and imparts vigor to the whole physical machinery, curing malaria, indigestion, etc.

Winter lasts long into spring this summer. -Philadelphia Star.

Formerly physicians confounded rheumatism with gout; but they are now known to be distinct diseases. Rheumatism attacks every age, goes into adults. But whether you have to cope with the one or the other, Serration Oil will be found equally efficacious. It kills pain. Price twenty-five cents a bottle.

Absurd title of a song—"A boy's worst friend is sometimes his grandmother."

An Off Year.
This is going to be an off year. No political drama for "Plumed Knights" or "Reform" will help keep up the health and strength of the vast multitude whose faith is pinned on the glowing party promises of election year. Multitudes of such will need a reliable tonic to tone up the system, a panacea to work off the fast blood and a sure remedy for rheumatism, lame backs, biliousness, etc. Such a remedy is Kidney-Wort. It has long stood at the head of the list of kidney remedies and it receives the highest praise from all that use it.

The Sam, Pete & Max clothing house will remain closed Monday and Tuesday. The great real letter sale begins Wednesday, April 22. 18-31

That Tired Feeling

When the weather grows warmer, that extreme tired feeling, want of appetite, dulness, listlessness, and lassitude, effect almost the entire human family, and seriously manifest other diseases caused by humors, impossible to throw off this debility and expel humors from the blood without the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I could not sleep, and would get up in the morning with hardly life enough to get out of bed. I had no appetite, and my face would break out with pimples. I bought me up."

At no other season is the system so susceptible to the beneficial effects of a reliable tonic and purgative. The impure state of the blood, the deranged digestion, and the weak condition of the body, caused by its long battle with the cold, wintry blasts, all call for the reviving, regulating and restoring influences so happily and effectively combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me a great deal of good. I had no particular disease, but was tired out from overwork, and it toned me up."

Fort Wayne Paint and Color Works,

No. 12 West Columbia Street Fort Wayne, Indiana.

To Painters

And others wanting First-class Paints: Do you know that you have in Fort Wayne a Manufacturer of Mixed Paint and Grinders of Colors, where you can buy your Paints from first hand instead of paying the middle man his profits, which are from 25 to 35 per cent. O. L. STARKIE, the Painter and proprietor of the Fort Wayne Paint and Color Works, came to Fort Wayne in April, 1886, and is identified as one of the old citizens who has helped build up Fort Wayne, and his knowledge of Paints and the composition of pigments to form different shades and tints is well-known to the public, and his long practical experience in painting gives him the knowledge of Paints that a mere dealer cannot have, for he does not know anything about Paints, as he buys them sealed up and he cannot tell you what it takes to make this or that shade. All he knows is what the label on the can says. Neither can he tell you shades that will or will not fade. By buying your Paints of O. L. STARKIE you can get all the information you want. I am making Liquid Paints in all shades and colors; also the same shades and colors in paste form, the same thickness as white lead and requires thinning down the same as white lead. In making the different shades my formulas are all registered giving the amount of each color it takes to form certain shades, all thoroughly mixed together in the powder mills, then wet down and run through a mixing machine, and from there to the mills where it is all ground together making a pigment that cannot be made by hand. Call or send and get some of my sample cards of colors and tints; also see elevations of gothic houses colored up with four and five shades, which will give you a good idea how to paint and ornament the outside of your houses.

I say again, do not buy of the middle man if you want to save money. I will guarantee my prices and quality of goods with any manufacturer in the United States.
